That''s Honiara, the capital of Solomon Islands, until the 15 MW Honiara Solar Power Station began operations in 2023. This project isn''t just about panels and inverters – it''s rewriting the rules of energy independence for small island nations. The one megawatt solar PV plant, which was expanded from 600kW following a grant from the New Zealand Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade, bolster energy resilience and reduces costs associated with diesel imports. Welcome to Honiara, where energy storage isn’t just tech jargon – it’s the difference between keeping lights on during monsoon seasons and playing board games by candlelight. The site is located at Henderso de electricity access to all Solomon Islanders by 2050. The additional generation capacity will be grid-connected inverter-based, connected to the spare uction works will take place over a period of 3 months.
