Emergency Power Generators

Stromspeicher im seehafen von ouagadougou

Überblick

Well, the Ouagadougou Energy Storage Power Station just made that vision 37% more achievable. Operational since March 2024, this 137MWh lithium-ion facility isn't just another battery project - it's solving three massive problems simultaneously: Wait, no - let's backtrack. As West Africa’s largest energy storage initiative, it’s like giving Burkina Faso’s capital a giant rechargeable battery – one that could power 200,000 homes during peak demand [6]. A sun-drenched city where solar panels glint like disco balls, but the real magic happens when the sun goes down. You know, it's sort of ironic - Ouagadougou gets over 3,000 hours of sunlight annually, yet 42% of urban households still experience daily power cuts. As climate change pushes temperatures to record highs (we're talking 43°C last April), the demand for reliable electricity in Burkina Faso's capital. If you've ever tried charging your phone during one of Ouagadougou's infamous power cuts, you’ll understand why the Ouagadougou Power Storage Battery Project is making waves.
